CAAH--Williamsburg, KY

Vic Bitter, John Clay Barnett, Chuck Scott and Charlie Scott took part at the Center for Advancing America's Heritage recently at the College of the Cumberlands. The first day was cancelled because of the weather. The next two days about 700 students from about 14 schools in Eastern Kentucky took part in this program. Pictures from this event are shown below.

We were honored to have Dr. Sam Powell (President of the SAR Foundation) join us as we talked about our uniforms, weapons and items carried in our haversacks. Here Dr. Sam Powell poses with John Clay Barnett, Chuck Scott and students from one of the schools.

John Clay Barnett talking to the students while young militiaman stands guard.

At another station we talked to the students about our different flags and did a flag-folding ceremony. The students took turns playing the drum and Charlie and Vic played songs on the fife and uke while talking about Revolutionary War music.

The above picture shows Dr. Sam Powell and Charlie Scott doing a flag-folding ceremony assisted by Elizabeth Ross a/k/a Betsy.

Memorial for Patriot John Hardin

In the War of Independence, John Hardin was a 2nd Lieutenant in the 8th Pennsylvania Regiment, better known as "The Provisional Rifle Corps" (or Morgan's Rifles), and fought at Saratoga, while serving directly under Colonel Morgan.

In April 1792, President George Washington sent word to now Colonel Hardin asking him to negotiate a peace with the Shawnee. Soon thereafter, in the area that is now Shelby County, Ohio, John Hardin met with a party of the Shawnee, who offered to escort him to their village. Instead, they attacked him and murdered him as he slept. Also killed was a servant of Hardin's, identified simply by his last name, Trueman. Another of the party, a guide named John Flinn - who had lived among the Indians after being captured by them as a boy - survived, later settling in Miami County, Ohio.

Hardin County, KY is named after this Patriot
