Bucksnot Trade Show

Junior Murdock and Chapter President Scott Giltner work the table at the Bucksnot Trade Show.

Compatriots Scott Giltner, Chuck Scott, Junior Murdock and Charlie Scott stand beside our new display at Bucksnot. On the right, while showing pictures on the display board, we were surprised when a visitor told us that he was at the McGee grave marking service—one of the pictures on the display board.

St. Albert the Great School visits Headquarters

John Clay Barnett, Melvin Rowe and Charlie Scott manned the camp life station while the students from St. Albert the Great School took part in several history activities at the NSSAR headquarters.

Melvin Rowe poses with two of the students. Then he explained how his black-powder rifle works. Charlie played his fife with the students.

John Clay Barnett talked about family history and items soldiers might have carried in their haversack.

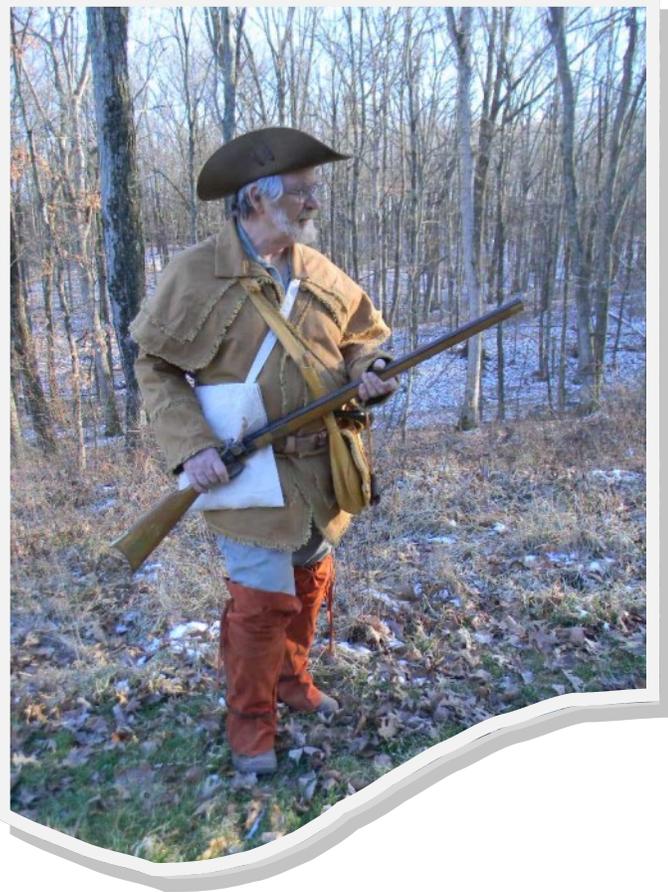

Charlie gave a fife to this young lady after she joined him in a fife duet. A smile is worth 1000 words.

Berne Miles instructs the students on writing with a quill pen and Amanda Rush tells the students about the Liberty Bell.

Color Guard Practice

New member, Melvin Rowe, all dressed up and ready to take part in chapter activities.

Randy Lane and Junior Murdock with Color Guard Commander Rod Smothers.

Larry Selby folds the flag with Charlie Scott and Mike Sullivan.

J.C. Barnett, Charlie Scott and Scott Giltner presented a program at St. James School. On the right are three students dressed up in Militia uniforms.
